

Rule of Law and Accountability

Lexpat Global Services is dedicated to strengthening accountability for the gravest international crimes.

We bring expertise in international criminal law, human rights, and rule of law to conflict and post-conflict settings, ensuring that survivors' voices are heard and that perpetrators of war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide are held to account.

Our multidisciplinary team of international lawyers, investigators, and human rights practitioners has decades of collective experience supporting tribunals, governments, civil society, and survivors in the pursuit of justice.

Our Approach

Lexpat has supported international and national accountability efforts around the world, providing expert evidence, legal analysis, and technical support that has directly contributed to prosecutions, human rights investigations, and strengthened local legal systems. Lexpat is:

- ✓ Independent & Impartial
- ✓ Survivor-Centered
- ✓ Global & Local Reach
- ✓ Evidence-Based

Core Competencies

International Criminal Law Investigation

Independent investigations into war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide.

Human Rights Documentation and Advocacy

Monitoring and documenting grave violations of human rights and humanitarian law.

Policy Development & Multilateral Engagement

Shaping accountability frameworks and influencing policy through expert engagement with UN bodies, regional organizations, and governments.

Rule of Law and Transitional Justice

Advising on institutional reform, reparations, and truth-seeking mechanisms for accountability and to uphold international standards.

Legal Expertise & Case Building Support

Expert legal analysis, case-building, and submissions to support prosecutions before international, hybrid, and domestic courts.

Training and Capacity Building

Equipping civil society, legal professionals, and investigators with skills in documentation, evidence handling, and survivor-centered approaches.